

Endorsement Letter

Dear media and California voters,

It is an honor and a pleasure to celebrate Dr. Sarah Sun Liew's efforts in her quest to become the Republican Party's nominee for the United States Senate seat in California. As a Senator from California, I believe Sarah can be an inclusive leader. Sarah's entrepreneurial skills, substantial education, community initiatives, and leadership in her faith-based communities all contribute to her achievement of the American Dream. Sarah is a conservative community leader who wishes to lead the entire state of California in returning to the shared values and character traits that will ensure everyone's success in life. Sarah wants to make sure that every Californian has access to a quality public education.

Sarah wants to ensure that everyone in California has access to quality, affordable health care. Sarah will ensure that all pupils in the state have access to a Moment of Silence for a minute of meaningful thought. Sarah plans to invite researchers and business executives from around the Asia-Pacific IT semiconductor industry to develop the next generation of these critical technologies in California. Sarah is well-positioned to reach out to semiconductor experts in her home country of Korea, as well as Taiwan, Japan, China, and Israel, to collaborate on resolving the pervasive and persistent supply chain issues that are currently obstructing the global semiconductor supply chain and posing threats to our country's national security and human security. Sarah will collaborate with faith-based community initiatives to reach out to the underserved.

Sarah will work to fulfill the long-held hopes of DACA recipients and their families, as well as deported American veterans, by ensuring that California exercises its sovereign right to be as welcoming as possible to those who have always considered themselves to be Americans, or who can demonstrate genuine rehabilitation back into society as a contributing member of society. Sarah will support restorative justice, health equity, and restore the Constitutional ideal of a United America, in which every American is given the opportunity to succeed. I am delighted to endorse Dr. Sarah Sun Liew, because I am a firm believer in the Korean traditional work ethic, faith-based values, and personal character, as well as Sarah's achievements as a fellow American.

California deserves the best, so cast your ballot for Dr. Sarah Sun Liew!

Respectfully yours,

Signed:
